LSU MUSEUM OF ART

OVERVIEW OF LSU

LSU comprises eight campuses stretching across Louisiana and includes more than 50,000 students and research expenditures amounting to $360 million. Within LSU are two health sciences centers offering various levels of degrees in medicine, dentistry, allied health, nursing, public health, and graduate studies. The LSU Agricultural Center encompasses both extension responsibilities and agricultural research. The Pennington Biomedical Research Center is a premier research institute specializing in chronic disease, diabetes, and obesity. LSU Shreveport offers degrees at the undergraduate and graduate level and has an emerging online presence. LSU Alexandria is a four-year institution serving the central region of the state. LSU Eunice is a junior college offering degrees and certificates in health, business, and liberal arts.

LSU's flagship campus, located in the state capital of Baton Rouge, is Louisiana's premier public institution. It is a land-, sea-, and space-grant institution enrolling almost 36,000 students studying in nearly 200 bachelor's, master's, doctoral, and specialist programs. The flagship campus includes the Paul M. Hebert Law Center and the state's only School of Veterinary Medicine. There are more than 5,000 employees with a budget of more than $1 billion on the flagship campus.

Over the past 20 years, LSU has consistently produced finalists and winners of the Rhodes, Truman, Goldwater, and Udall Scholarships. Several of LSU's programs are ranked top in the nation, including the Robert Reich School of Landscape Architecture in the College of Art & Design and the Internal Auditing program in the E. J. Ourso College of Business, which is internationally known as one of the top such programs in the world. LSU faculty and students contributed to the 2017 Nobel Prize in Physics with the discovery of gravitational waves, which were predicted by Einstein but not previously recorded. And Forbes recently recognized LSU among the top 20 universities in the country that dominate in both academics and athletics.

In short, a lot is happening across all of the campuses, and it is an exciting time to be at LSU. From preserving the state's coastline and protecting its $2.4 billion seafood industry to finding improved treatments for cancer, diabetes, and heart disease, researchers at LSU are contributing to breakthroughs that impact the everyday lives of the people of Louisiana, the nation, and the world.

LSU seeks a dynamic person to serve as Senior Curator and Director of Programs who can lead the continued effort of positioning LSU as one of the nation's top public research universities. In recent years, LSU has worked tirelessly to bring in top faculty members who have achieved national and international recognition, an increasingly diverse student body, and larger and more successful incoming classes. As LSU continues to distinguish itself in research and scholarship during this era of intense competition in higher education, it becomes more important than ever to find the right leaders to champion the university's values and to nurture the manifestation of those values within the individual colleges.

LSU is Louisiana's most important economic asset.

LSU researchers across Louisiana are working on developing a wide range of innovations to improve quality of life by studying issues such as disease management, advanced medical treatments, obesity, coastal protection, hurricane preparedness, energy, natural resource management, and agriculture. To learn more about how LSU research works for the state of Louisiana, visit lsu.edu/researchworks.

LSU's economic impact on Louisiana totals $5.1 billion. The impact equates to $1,097 per Louisiana citizen and a return of $13.25 for every dollar of state investment. For more on LSU's impact, visit lsu.edu/impact.

STRATEGIC PLAN 2025

LSU has an obligation to serve Louisiana through discovery, diversity, engagement, and learning, which in turn serves a broader national and global purpose. As the state’s flagship research university, LSU has developed a strategic plan to solve global challenges acute to Louisiana through cutting-edge research, while graduating future leaders equipped with the ability, skills, and desire to make positive contributions to the world.

The university is guided by the LSU Strategic Plan 2025, which identified seven strategic opportunities for the institution over the coming years: transforming education; developing leaders; cultivating diversity and inclusion; fostering research and catalyzing economic development; bridging the coast, energy, and environment; advancing arts and culture; and improving health and wellbeing. To learn more about the plan, please visit lsu.edu/strategicplan.

LSU VALUES DIVERSITY

Diversity is fundamental to LSU’s mission. The university is committed to creating and maintaining a living and learning environment that embraces individual difference. Cultural inclusion is of highest priority. LSU recognizes achieving international prominence depends on the human spirit, participation, and dedicated work of the entire university community. The LSU Strategic Plan will be realized by bringing together diverse ideas, perspectives, skills, and talents of the nation’s preeminent scholars, brightest students, and leading higher education professionals. Through its Commitment to Community, LSU strives to create an inclusive, respectful, and intellectually challenging climate that embraces individual difference in race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, age, religion/spirituality, socio-economic status, disability, family or marital status, genetic information, veteran’s status, experiences, opinions, and ideas. LSU proactively cultivates and sustains a campus environment that values open dialogue, cooperation, shared responsibility, mutual respect, and cultural competence—the driving forces that enrich and enhance cutting-edge research, first-rate teaching, and engaging community outreach activities.

An Equal Opportunity Institution

LSU does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, religion, sex, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran’s status in its programs and activities and provides equal access to Boy Scouts and other designated youth groups. For more information or if you believe you have been subject to discrimination on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, or disability, please contact LSU’s Title IX coordinator Joshua Jones at joshuajones@lsu.edu, (225) 578-9000, or the Office of Civil Rights & Title IX in 118 Himes Hall.

POSITION OVERVIEW FOR MUSEUM EDUCATION & PUBLIC PROGRAMS MANAGER

The Museum Education & Public Programs Manager develops, manages, and implements a cohesive group of education programs that link school and community audiences of all ages with the LSU Museum of Art's collections and exhibitions. This position acts as an integral leader of the program development process and will work closely with the Curator and key staff members to manage public programs. The Educator is committed to arts-integration K-12 education and creates innovative and hands-on educational programs for adults and youth as well as collaborates with various departments of the University and community partners.

Job Responsibilities:

- Works with the Curator(s) to develop interpretation/programs for museum exhibitions, including K-12 community, university, and adult public programs. Manages public programs in terms of budget tracking; administrative documentation; arranging and organizing payment for guest speakers/artists, performers, and collaborators; audience surveying and program facilitation from set up to breakdown.
- Develops and implements interdisciplinary curricula (on-site, off-site, mobile settings, and virtual) based on exhibitions for a variety of programming needs including early childhood programs, school field trips, alternative educational settings, outreach programs, and weekend and summer camps. Builds and sustains relationships with K-12 teachers and administrators across the region. Participates in local teacher training. This includes an ability to lead hands-on demonstrations in various media and discuss museum education.
- Builds and sustains relationships with diverse community partners to foster arts engagement in the community and the museum, and develops committed partners and collaborators as foundation of public programming. Works with entire museum team to initiate and integrate these relationships into various departments in order to establish new initiatives, collaborations, and art-related educational programs and promote these programs in the community.
- Collaborates with university departments, student organizations, and faculty at LSU and beyond to grow resources for use in university courses. Partners to develop, implement, and distribute museum public programming.
- Interfaces with Curator and Director of Development on solicitations and grants by providing information required for proposals including program narratives and budgets. Assists in identification of grant opportunities; writing of applications, proposals, and reports; programs project management including artists relationships, budgeting and expense tracking.
- Establishes and maintains relationships with other museum educators regionally and nationally to continually develop best practices.

ABOUT THE LSU MUSEUM OF ART

The LSU Museum of Art seeks to enrich and inspire through collections, exhibitions, conservation, and education, serving as a cultural and intellectual resource for the University, Baton Rouge, and beyond. Founded in 1959, the museum opened its doors to the public in 1962 as a small period room museum in the Memorial Tower. In 2005, it moved to the Shaw Center for the Arts, where it has more than 13,000 square feet of immense exhibition space. As the only dedicated art museum in the city of Baton Rouge, the LSU Museum of Art serves more than 20,000 adults and children who visit the museum’s galleries annually.

As a nationally accredited museum, the LSU Museum of Art presents world-class touring exhibitions of regional, American, and European painting, sculpture, decorative arts, works on paper, and photography. The permanent collection consists of more than 6,500 objects, ranging from a world-class collection of Chinese jade to one of the most comprehensive public collections of Louisiana art. In March 2016, the museum unveiled a complete re-installation of this collection focused on the art and culture of Louisiana, filling over 10,000 square feet of gallery space with art installations that examine Louisiana’s complex regional history, which the Senior Curator & Director of Programs continues to interpret and update.

The LSU Museum of Art serves as a vital cultural and educational resource for the greater Baton Rouge community. As part of its mission, the museum supports ambitious art outreach initiatives ranging from collaborative projects with local artists and LSU faculty and students to thriving primary and secondary school art programs. Through its exhibitions and programming, the museum aims to showcase and support the work of local Louisiana artists as well as present projects of great regional and national importance that place the art and artists of Louisiana in dialogue with the wider world. The museum’s education and outreach programs strive to reach broad segments of the local population as well as target under-served neighborhoods. The curatorial and education departments’ philosophy holds that the heart of the museum experience is object-based learning. It believes that personal interaction with original works of art provide meaningful links to the past and powerful points of contact with contemporary cultural concerns.

LSU FLAGSHIP CAMPUS

LSU's flagship campus in Baton Rouge sits on more than 2,000 acres of lush landscaping along the Mississippi River. The campus, widely considered to be one of the most beautiful in the country, is known for its Italian Renaissance-style architecture, tranquil lakes, and majestic live oak trees that are valued at approximately $45 million.

LSU's Memorial Tower, one of the campus's best-known landmarks, as well as the War Memorial on the Parade Ground and the Memorial Oak Grove all honor those who have given their lives in service to the United States during various wars and conflicts throughout our nation's history. The campus is also home to the Indian Mounds, which are two Native American earthworks dated to be more than 6,000 years old—older than the Egyptian pyramids.

The newly renovated and expanded Patrick F. Taylor Hall is now the largest academic building in Louisiana and one of the largest freestanding academic engineering buildings in the nation. The Business Education Complex, the Manship School of Mass Communication, and the LSU Union are other noteworthy buildings. And in fall of 2018, the Nicholson Gateway opened, welcoming students to state-of-the-art living and retail spaces on the campus, just a short walk from Tiger Stadium and the Quadrangle. LSU's Tiger Stadium, well-known by college sports fans, is one of the largest college football stadiums in the nation. Known as Death Valley, the stadium has a reputation for being one of the loudest in the NCAA, and LSU is famous for its spirited tailgating atmosphere.

GLOBAL VISION, GLOBAL IMPACT

LSU, the state's flagship university, is one of only 24 land-, sea-, and space-grant institutions in the country, offering academic programs in all areas of science, engineering, humanities, arts, and social sciences.

LSU is a member of the Laser Interferometer Gravitational-Wave Observatory (LIGO) Scientific Collaboration, a dynamic group of scientists from around the globe collaborating to detect and study gravitational waves. LIGO's Louisiana facility first detected gravitational waves in 2015, proving Einstein's General Theory of Relativity in a groundbreaking discovery that contributed to the Nobel Prize in 2017.

The LSU Center for Internal Auditing is the premier internal audit program in the world and is a model for similar programs in other schools and countries.

The LSU College of Art & Design's Robert S. Reich School of Landscape Architecture is consistently ranked as the No. 1 program of its kind in the country in undergraduate education.

The LSU Department of French Studies has been recognized by the Cultural Services office of the French Ambassador to the U.S. as a centre d'excellence, an honor given to only 15 university French programs in America.

The LSU Department of Theatre is one of a handful of programs in the country with an affiliate professional theatre, Swine Palace.

LSU's School of Veterinary Medicine is one of only 30 accredited colleges of veterinary medicine in the U.S. The graduate program excels in research on equine health, vector-borne diseases, respiratory diseases, and molecular medicine and imaging.

The Manship School of Mass Communication is the only one in the U.S. offering a political communication focus at undergraduate, graduate, and PhD levels.
