Sakai Yoshitaka By Hiroshige in 1836

History of Sakai KOKODO

Sakai KOKODO was founded in Tokyo in 1870 by Toubai Sakai and is the oldest ukiyo-e retailer in Japan. His father, Yoshiyuki Sakai was close friends with famous ukiyo-e artists, such as, Katsushika Hokusai and Utagawa Hiroshige.

Japan Ukiyo-e Museum

The Japan Ukiyo-e Museum in Matsumoto, Nagano Prefecture, is based on the Sakai collection, and was established in 1982 as a comprehensive ukiyo-e museum. It is internationally known for its collection of more than a hundred thousand ukiyo-prints, paintings, old books and modern contemporary prints.

The Sakai collection has been exhibited in Japan, United States, Europe, China, Middle East and South America, and has received worldwide recognition.

The reputation of this collection is not only due to its size, but also to the excellent condition of the prints. Several dozen extremely rare works are also included, which would otherwise have been lost.

Containing Over 100,000 Original Woodblock Prints

The collection includes:

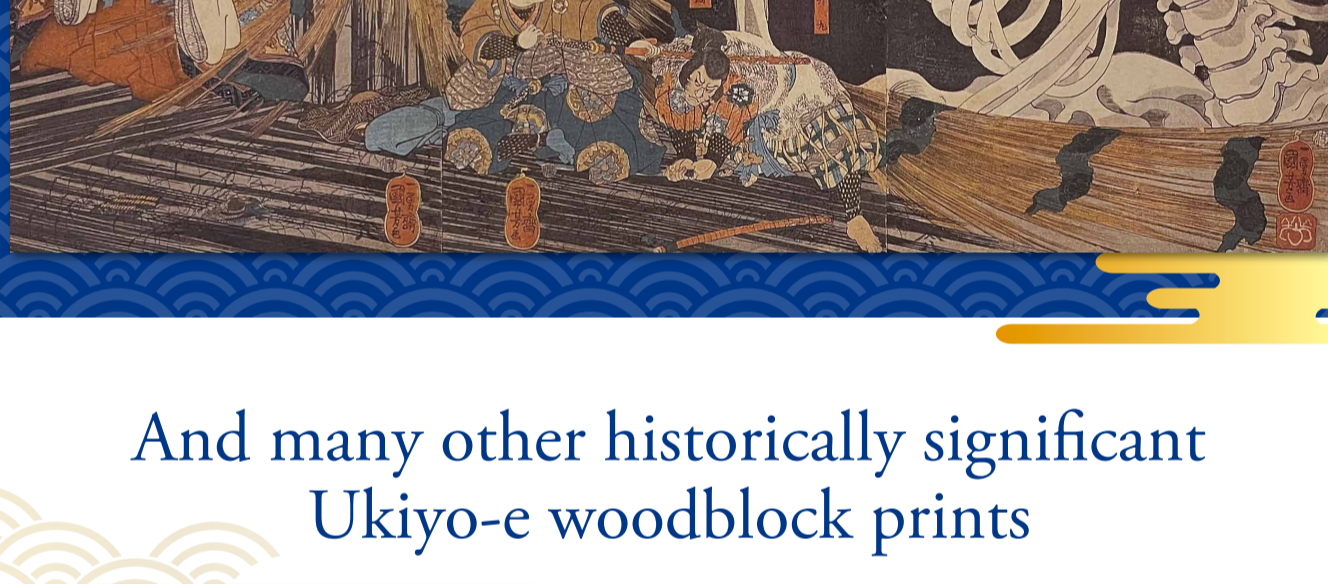

Thirty-six Views of Mt. Fuji by Hokusai Katsushika

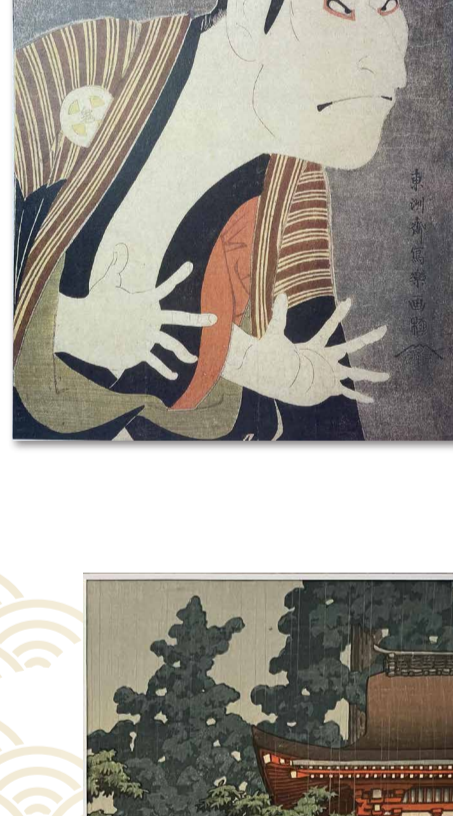

Fifty-three stations of Tokaido Road by Hiroshige Utawaga.

Kuniyoshi Utawaga

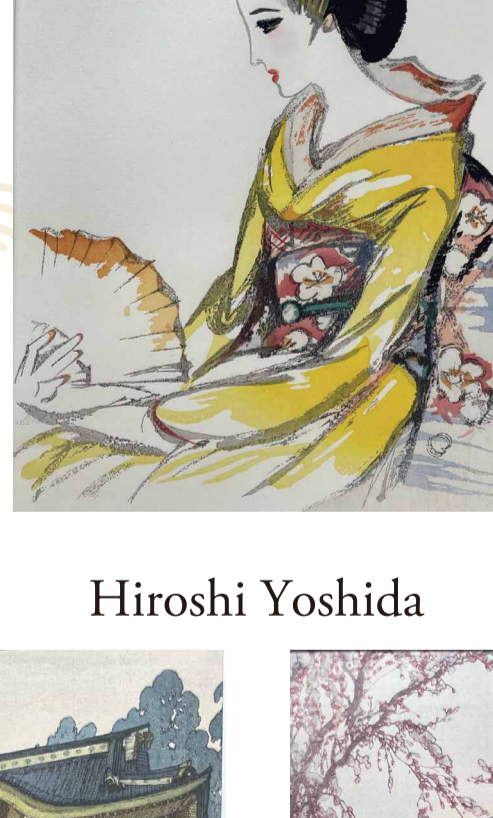

And many other historically significant Ukiyo-e woodblock prints
