2024 AAMG
Annual Conference - Virtual

Belong
June 24-26 2024 | Virtual

The AAMG 2024 virtual conference centers upon belonging. Academic museums and galleries consider belonging from many angles unique to the field, but above all else it is a shared value—for our relationships with students, faculty, and our local and regional communities as well as our relationships with each other as an AAMG community.

Belonging is also a critical aspect of students' relationships with their campuses, given higher education's ongoing struggle with declining enrollment and retention, rising costs, and political encroachment, among other things. Organizationally and socially, campus-based museums and galleries are woven into university operations, pedagogy, and culture. How might we foster a sense of belonging for everyone—but especially the students—within our campus communities?

Belonging even informs the work we do on our collections, exhibitions, communications, and fundraising and our internal staff infrastructure and culture. When people resonate with what we have, what we do, and what we say, everybody is invested in the impact.

Programming

AAMG provides a variety of services and programs to the museum field, including:

• The AAMG Annual Conference, which brings hundreds of colleagues from across the country together for panel sessions, networking, and workshops.

• AAMG-L Groups.io listserv: the field's largest and most active online listserv community with over 3,000 subscribers.

• Access to academic museum best practices, job posts, and traveling exhibits.

• Workshops and scholarships for museum training and professional development.

Mission & History

The Association of Academic Museums and Galleries (AAMG) is the leading professional organization for academic museums, galleries, and collections. In recognition of the unique opportunities and challenges of its constituents, AAMG establishes and supports best practices, educational activities, and professional development that enable its member organizations to fulfill their educational missions.

Organized in 1980 as the Association of College and University Museums and Galleries (ACUMG), AAMG addresses issues that are relevant and unique to galleries and collections of all disciplines, including: anthropology, art, history, natural history, and science. Issues include gover-nance, ethics, education, exhibitions, strategic planning, administrative support, collections, and professional programs.
